4. RATES AND CHARGES (continued)

4.6. Demonstration Period Offering

- A. The Company may offer a demonstration period in which it will provide part or all of its cellular service rate elements (activation, monthly access, usage, and/or optional features) at either a reduced charge or without charge for each new access number activated for a Customer, or for each new service offered to an existing Customer. The period during which this offering is in effect, the rate elements included, the discounts applicable, and the length of the demonstration period are as specified in the Flexible Rate Schedule.
- B. In order to qualify for this offering, the new access number or new service must be activated no later than the last day of the period during which the offering is in effect. The demonstration period for each number begins on the day following service activation.
- C. The Customer remains responsible for payment of all other charges (i.e., landline charges, tolls, and other carrier services) incurred on the access number that are not specifically included in the free or reduced offer.

4.7. Discounts

4.7.1. Optional Contract Period

- A. The Company offers a discount to Customers who subscribe to an optional contract period. The minimum and maximum range of months in the optional contract period is as follows:

Optional Contract Period
Number of Months
Minimum	Maximum
0	60

- B. The discount may be applied to effective access and/or usage rates as a one time usage credit, a sliding scale discount or as a percentage discount. The range for the percentage discounts is as follows:

4.7.1. Optional Contract Period (Continued)

- C. A Customer meeting a minimum quantity of access numbers requirement may subscribe to an optional contract for a group of access numbers. The minimum quantity of access numbers for each optional contract and the markets where the offering is applicable will be reflected in the flexible rate schedule. The Customer will receive a discount on all access numbers under contract, and additional access numbers, not under contract, provided that the quantity of active access numbers does not fall below the minimum requirement during the contract period and, provided that the maximum additional access numbers for which discounts will be provided shall not exceed 15 % of the quantity of numbers under contract. If the quantity of access numbers falls below the minimum specified in the flexible rate schedule, a termination charge will be applied to each access number terminated.

Minimum Quantity of Access Numbers
Required for Account Contract
Minimum	Maximum
10	200

- D. The contract period begins on the date that service is established or the date when the access number is assigned to the optional contract, whichever comes last. The length of the optional contract period offering currently in effect and the discounts applicable will be specified on the Flexible Rate Schedule. Renewal of an Optional Contract Period can occur only after the previous Optional Contract Period has expired. The Company may allow Customer s under contract to supersede their existing agreements with a new agreement. If such an offer is made, the Company will specify the conditions of such offering, and the Customer that are eligible on the flexible rate page associated with the new contract offering.
- E. If termination occurs prior to the expiration of the optional contract period, a termination charge shall apply. The termination charge shall comprise the recovery of all discounts previously applied and an administrative termination charge for each access number terminated. The minimum and maximum range of the administrative termination charge is specified below; the effective rate will be specified on the flexible rate schedule. The Company may charge a flat termination charge in lieu of recovering all discounts previously applied and an administrative termination charge. The minimum and maximum range of the flat termination charge is specified below; the effective rate and the optional contract offerings for which the flat termination charge applies will be specified on the flexible rate schedule. If this Suspension of service for non payment shall constitute a breach of the agreement and shall place liability on Customer of all current and past due amounts. Subsequent payment of all monies due shall not result in the resumption of this 12 month service agreement.

4.7.2. Anniversary Discounts

- A. The Company may offer discounts to Customer s who maintain continuous service with the Company for a specified period of time or upon reaching certain usage levels. The form of discount, the term of service and the usage amounts required will be reflected in the Flexible Rate Schedule.

4.7.3. Pricing Plan Usage Discounts

- A. The Company may offer discounts to Customer s that subscribe to certain pricing. The discount provided may be based on a Customer 's total usage for a single access number, or the total usage of all access numbers subscribed to by a Customer under a single billing account. Discounts provided to Customer s subscribing to the Multi-CGSA plan will be based on the average usage of all Customer access numbers in the CGSA's covered by this tariff and the Company's affiliate, New York Cellular Geographic Service Area, Inc., under its tariff P.S.C. No. 4 where the Multi-CGSA plan is available unless otherwise specified on the flexible rate pages.
- B. The range of discount percentages are specified below. The currently effective discounts and the usage required for discounts are contained on the Flexible Rate Schedule on file.
- C. Access numbers from different CGSAs are grouped separately for the purpose of determining discounts unless the Company designates otherwise on the flexible rate pages. Customer s that subscribe to service under the Multi-CGSA plan may group access numbers from different CGSA for this discount. The CGSA which will be grouped will be specified on the flexible rate pages for each CGSA where the Multi-CGSA plan is available.
- D. Discounts may be provided by reducing the usage and access rate elements on a sliding scale, or by providing a percentage discount. The range for discounts is as follows:

Usage Rate Discount %		Access Number Discount %
Minimum	Maximum	Minimum	Maximum
0	35	0	35

4.7.4. Volume Discount

- A. A volume discount is provided on effective access number and/or usage rates based on the cumulative level of access numbers subscribed to by a Customer under one account and is applied to the first full billing cycle following the establishment date of the volume discount. Volume discounts may also be provided on individual pricing plans in lieu of the volume discount described previously.
- B. Employees and Licensed Agents of an individual, corporation, partnership, sole proprietorship, joint stock company, trust or association (Employer) may have their access numbers grouped with those of the Employer in order to qualify for the volume discounts provided in 4.7.4.(A). To qualify, the Employer must be a Customer of the Company and have the minimum quantity of access numbers specified below. Employees and Licensed Agents of an Employer that subscribes to service under the Multi-CGSA plan may not have their access numbers grouped with those of the Employer to qualify for the volume discounts provided in 4.7.4 (A), unless the Company specifies otherwise on the flexible rate pages. If the employees choose to group their access numbers with those of the Employer for the purpose of this discount, notification acceptable to the Company must be received from the Employer specifying the access numbers to be included. The range for the minimum quantity of access numbers required is specified below. The currently effective quantity, the pricing plans under which such grouping will be available, and the markets where this offering is applicable will be specified on the flexible rate schedule.

Minimum Quantity of Access Numbers Required of the Employer

Minimum	Maximum
10	200

- C. Affiliates may have their access numbers grouped in order to qualify for the volume discount provided in 4.7.4.(A), except that Affiliates of an Employer that subscribes to service under the Multi-CGSA plan may not have their access numbers grouped with those of the Employer to qualify for the volume discounts provided in 4.7.4 (A), unless the Company specifies otherwise on the flexible rate pages. If the affiliates choose to group their access numbers, notification acceptable to the Company must be received from the affiliates specifying the access numbers to be included.
- D. The range of volume discount percentages are specified below. The currently effective discount percentages and the quantity of access numbers required for discount are contained on the Flexible Rate Schedule on file with the P.S.C.
- E. Access numbers from different CGSAs are grouped separately for the purpose of determining discounts unless the Company designates otherwise on the flexible rate pages. Customers that subscribe to service under the Multi-CGSA plan may group access numbers from different CGSA for this discount. The CGSAs which will be grouped will be specified on the flexible rate pages for each CGSA where the Multi-CGSA plan is available.
- F. Volume discount ranges are as follows:

4.7.5. Volume Discount for Business, Professional or Trade Associations

- A. Members of a Business, Professional or Trade Association may become Customer's of the Company and cumulate their access numbers with those of the Association to qualify for volume discounts. To receive this discount the Association must jointly market the Company's service to the members of said Association. The Association must consist of a minimum of 50 people who have a Business, Profession or Trade in common. The discount provided will be based on the cumulative level of access numbers subscribed to by the Association members and the Association in each billing period. To qualify, the Association members and the Association must subscribe to service under an annual service plan and maintain the minimum quantity of access numbers and the minimum average usage specified in the applicable flexible rate schedule. The rate for access and usage that apply for each month will be based on the quantity of access numbers and the average usage as of the last business day of the month for which the bill is being generated. Predictions will be made at the beginning of each month for the following month based on the preceding billing period. If the actual quantity of access numbers in service or the average usage of the Association members as of the last day of the month differs from the predicted rate or if the Association members fail to meet the minimum requirements, each Customer's account will be adjusted to the rates associated with the actual quantity of access numbers in service and/or the actual average usage. If the Association members choose to group their access numbers for the purpose of this discount, notification acceptable to the Company must be received from the Association specifying the access numbers to be included. The Association will be required to review a list of the Association members receiving the discount on at least a quarterly basis to verify that the discount is being given to current members only. The range for the minimum quantity of access numbers and the minimum average usage required is specified below. The currently effective quantity, the pricing plans under which such grouping will be available, and the markets where this offering is applicable will be specified on the flexible rate schedule.

Minimum Quantity of Access Numbers Required of the Association Members

Minimum	Maximum
50	500

Minimum Average Usage Required of the Association Members (Minutes)

Minimum	Maximum
50	500

- B. The range of volume discount percentages are specified below. The currently effective discount percentages and the quantity of access numbers required for discount are contained on the Flexible Rate Schedule on file with the P.S.C.
- C. Access numbers from different CGSAs are grouped separately for the purpose of determining discounts unless the Company designates otherwise on the flexible rate pages.
- D. Volume discount ranges are as follows:

Usage Rate Discount %		Access Number Discount %
Minimum	Maximum	Minimum	Maximum
0	35	0	35

4. RATES AND CHARGES (continued)

4.8. Market Area Pricing

4.8.1. Description

- A. A Market Area is an area within a Cellular Geographic Service Area (CGSA) defined by the cell site(s) serving that area. Airtime charges for calls originated in a Market Area are subject to special Market Area rates which are determined by the application of either a discount or a surcharge to the Customer's effective usage rates.
- B. Customer s will be provided with maps showing the location of the Market Areas.

4.8.2. Rates

- A. Market Area pricing is expressed as a percentage of the Customer's effective usage rates. The percentage rates in effect for peak and off-peak usage for each defined Market Area are contained in the Flexible Rate Schedule. The application of Market Area pricing will not cause Customer usage rates to exceed the maximum as specified in 4.2., preceding.
- B. Market Area pricing applies only to calls originating in a Market Area for the entire duration of the call. A call originating outside the Market Area is not subject to Market Area pricing even if the call is handed off to a cell within the Market Area.
- C. The range of Market Area percentages are specified below:

	Minimum	Maximum
Per Peak Period Call	80%	150%
Per Off-Peak Period Call	80%	150%

4.9. Daily Cellular Service

4.9.1. Description

- A. Daily Cellular Service allows a Customer to obtain cellular service for a limited period of time, the minimum of which is twenty-four hours.

4.9.2. Regulations

- A. The Customer registers with the Company and is provided with cellular radio service for a minimum period of 24 hours and additional daily increments of 24 hours.
- B. A non-recurring registration charge and a daily service charge apply in addition to the usage rates as specified in 4.9.3., following. The Daily Cellular Service Customer is responsible for payment of all charges for services furnished including usage charges and any applicable local landline or toll charges.
- C. The minimum usage and fractional billing charge is as described in 4.1.3., preceding. Minimum and maximum rates are specified in 4.9.3., following.
- D. The effective rates are contained on a Flexible Rate Schedule on file with the P.S.C. An effective rate may be changed to any rate within the minimum-maximum range at any time. An updated Flexible Rate Schedule will be provided to the P.S.C. no later than the date of the change.
- E. No optional features are included with this service.
- F. Daily Cellular Service may, for non-payment of any sum due, be interrupted or terminated without notice, without the Company incurring any liability, as described in 3.2.2.A., preceding.

4.9.3. Rates

	Minimum	Maximum
A. Registration Charge, per occurrence	$ .00	$10.00
B. Daily Service Charge, per day	.00	10.00

4.10. Suspended Service

4.10.1. Description

Vacation Suspend

- A. Customer s may elect to have cellular service to an access number suspended due to vacation or residency in another location once at any time during a consecutive twelve (12) month period, provided that such period of suspension shall not exceed the maximum suspension period set forth in the flexible rate schedule. The suspension shall become effective upon the first day of the first monthly billing period commencing more than three (3) business days after notice of such election is received by the Company.

Protection Suspend

- B. Suspension of cellular service due to theft, cloning or other fraudulent usage may occur as often as necessary, provided such suspension does not exceed the maximum suspension period set forth in the flexible rate schedule.

4.10.2. Rates

- A. For each such period of vacation suspension for each access number, a Suspension Charge may be made as set forth below, shall be included in the next monthly bill rendered to the Customer by the Company and shall be due and payable on the date set forth thereon.

Suspension Charge
Minimum	Maximum
$ .00	$25.00

- B. During the period of vacation suspension of cellular service, a Reduced Access Charge may be in effect as set forth below.

Reduced Access Charge Per Month
Minimum	Maximum
$ .00	$50.00

- C. The availability of this service may vary by cellular geographic service area and will be appropriately reflected on the Flexible Rate Schedule on file with the P.S.C.

4.11 Government Surcharges

The applicable Gross Revenue tax surcharge rates and MTA tax rates are shown on a statement which is attached to this tariff. Any changes to these rates will be filed on 15 days' notice to the Commission. Customer s will be notified through bill insert in the first bill following a change in the statement which is attached to this tariff, or as directed by the Commission. Whenever the state levies a new tax on the company's gross revenue, repeals such a tax, or changes the rate of such a tax, the Commission may approve new surcharge factors, and the company will file revised surcharges as directed by the Commission.

Changes in surcharge rate will be applied with each billing cycle following the effective date of this filing. All charges on bill cycles following the effective date of this filing will reflect the new surcharge rate.

Issued in compliance with New York Public Service Commission's Order in Case 92-M-0366, adopted May 13, 1992.

4. RATES AND CHARGES (continued)

4.12. Special Assemblies and Arrangements

- A. Where service is specifically designed for a single Customer, and not generally offered to the public, special assembly charges as set forth in the schedules to be filed with the Commission will apply.
- B. In cases where a Customer requests special arrangements which may include engineering, installation, construction, facilities, assembly, purchase or lease of facilities, equipment, or services available from other common carriers, and/or other services not offered under this tariff, the Company, at its option, may provide the requested services either directly or from other regulated or non-regulated entities. Appropriate recurring and/or non-recurring charges will be established accordingly, on an individual Customer basis. The special assemblies and arrangements, with tariff attachments, shall be filed to show the type of service, the price of service, the number of access numbers used, and the length of contract terms.

4.13. Geographic Area Pricing4.13.1. Description

- A. Geographic Area Pricing is provided to accommodate Customers who do all or most of their calling within a limited geographic area. All calls made or received within a specified geographic area are In Area calls and all calls made or received outside the geographic area are Out Area calls.
- B. The rate elements included, the discounts applicable, and the geographic areas where the service is available are specified in the Flexible Rate Schedule and will not exceed the maximums set forth below.

(1) Pricing Plans A and B are not available to new monthly customers after February 1, 1994. Pricing Plan J is no longer available after July 4, 1994. Pricing Plans C, F, H, L, and P through Z are not available at this time. Includes all charges applicable to the provision of Local Landline Service with the exception of directory assistance charges and charges for calls to other information delivery service providers. These will be billed at the rate billed the Company by the service provider. In instances where a customer located in a foreign CGSA receives a call through automatic call delivery, local airtime charges do not apply. In such cases, the customer is responsible for any applicable roaming and landline charges. (2) Pricing plan E, K and Pricing plan I require a minimum 12 month service agreement. Pricing plan J requires a 24 month service agreement, termination charges apply. The access and usage rates shown here for pricing plan E and plan I represent contract discounts off the Plan A and B monthly rates. Usage discounts apply as specified on page 4, following. (3) Customer must have 100 access numbers in each CGSA covered by this tariff or more than 700 total access numbers in the CGSA's where the Company or its affiliates provide service in the State of New York.

Pricing Plan J requires a 24 month service agreement, termination charges apply. The access and usage rates shown here for pricing plan E and plan I represent contract discounts off the Plan A and B monthly rates. Usage discounts apply as specified, following. Pricing Plans M30, M60, M180 and M350 require a minimum 12 month contract. Usage allowances may not be pooled and unused minutes do not carry over into subsequent months. Customers under existing contracts may switch to Plan M350 without incurring termination charges. Customers that subscribe to service on Plan M350 will incur termination charges if they switch to plan K or plan G prior to the fulfillment of their 12 months service requirement. (3) Pricing Plan N requires a 24 month service agreement. Customers must be employees or members of the same corporation or association having at least 50 employees or members. In the event the number of activated access numbers falls below 20, Customers will incur termination charges and the effective rate for the remaining Customers on Price Plan N will be the rate then in effect for Price Plan E1 (Monthly Simplicity). (4) Pricing Plan O requires a 12 or 24 month contract. A minimum of 25 access numbers, billed to the same company and address, are required.

Anniversary Discount Program (Page 26))

The Company provides a program called MobilePerks<sup>SM</sup> in which eligible customers can earn award points, on a per number basis, for achieving tenure and usage milestones. Credit may also be earned by eligible customers through participation in other marketing programs that may not require the use of tariffed services. Customers may redeem these Award Points for airtime credits, or the customer may redeem Award Points for various travel and leisure awards. Customers are automatically enrolled in the program when they achieve average usage in two consecutive months of 200 minutes or more. Redemption of airtime credits for cash value is prohibited. Anniversary dates for existing customers at the time of program initiation will be calculated beginning with the first day the program is in effect. For eligible customers who activate service after the program initiation date, the anniversary date will be based on the date they attain eligibility. The awarding of airtime credits is suspended if the customer fails to make timely payment for all charges, as described in 4.1.2. Only customers in good standing, as described in 4.1.2., are eligible to redeem award points for airtime credits. Once the customer returns to good standing, any airtime credits accrued during the suspension period will be applied and will be eligible for redemption. Customers will be notified periodically regarding total accrual of award points

Optional Contract Period applicable to Pricing Plan A (Page 24) Not available to new subscribers after 2/1/93 (1)

Term of optional contract - 12 months

Discount Applicable - A discount of $10.00 per month on access. A discount of $.02 per minute on usage. In the event that a customer terminates service prior to the expiration of the Optional Contract Period, the discount is revoked and becomes due<sup>(2)</sup>. In addition, an administrative termination charge shall apply as specified below. The sum of the discount revoked and the administrative termination charge shall not exceed the amounts listed below. Suspension of service for non payment shall constitute a breach of the agreement and shall place liability on customer of all current and past due amounts. Subsequent payment of all moneys due shall not result in the resumption of this 12 month service agreement.

Optional Contract Period applicable to Pricing Plan B (Page 24) Not available to new subscribers after 2/1/93 (1)

Term of optional contract - 12 months

Discount Applicable - A discount of $10.00 per month on access. A discount of $.03 per minute on peak usage and a discount of $.06 per minute on off-peak usage. In the event that a customer terminates service prior to the expiration of the Optional Contract Period, the discount is revoked and becomes due<sup>(2)</sup>. In addition, an administrative termination charge shall apply as specified below. The sum of the discount revoked and the administrative termination charge shall not exceed the amounts listed below. Suspension of service for non payment shall constitute a breach of the agreement and shall place liability on customer of all current and past due amounts. Subsequent payment of all moneys due shall not result in the resumption of this 12 month service agreement.

- (1) Contract offers on Price plan A and B are not available to new subscribers after February 1, 1993, except that existing customers with 500 or more access numbers under contract on Plans A & B may continue to add additional access numbers and receive the Plan A or B rates provided that the total quantity of access numbers under contract on Plans A & B does not fall below 500. All changes affecting discounts on access rate take effect with the first full bill cycle following the effective date of this filing. Customers under contract that switch from pricing plans A, B, or E to pricing plan D will be charged a termination charge. A single customer with 700 or more access numbers in the CGSA's covered by this tariff, or 125 or more access numbers in the NY Metro CGSA, may elect to have a common contract start date and contract termination date for any of the Company's contract offerings. The common start date selected must be no later than 30 days after the signing of the optional contract agreement and will take effect with the access numbers first full bill cycle. A customer may assign additional access numbers to the group contract at any time during the common contract period provided that all numbers added will be held to the common start and termination date. Discounts on access numbers added during the contract period will begin with the first full bill cycle. A customer may terminate access numbers that are currently under contract without incurring termination charges, provided that those numbers are assigned to this agreement. Termination charges will be based on the common start and termination date. For example, if an access number is activated in the third month of the common contract period and terminates service two months later, the termination penalty charged will be the applicable termination charge for the fifth month.
- (2) Customers with 100 or more access numbers under contract may terminate service to individual access numbers without penalty, provided that the Customer concurrently establishes service to a new access number for the remainder of the contract period, or assigns an existing access number, not currently under contract, to the contract for the remainder of the contract period. The total quantity of access numbers for which substitution will be allowed shall not exceed 5% of the total numbers under contract at that time for customers with between 100 and 149 access lines, 10% for customers with between 150 and 199 access lines and 15% for customers with between 200 or more access lines.
